

Raphael Perpetuo M. Lotilla
Secretary
Department of Energy

Mr. Raphael Perpetuo M. Lotilla previously served as Energy Secretary from 2005 to 2007. As the energy chief of the Arroyo administration, he pushed for energy conservation measures and helped the country navigate through a crisis brought about by unprecedented oil price hikes.

He also served as Chairman of the Philippine Electricity Market Corporation, Philippine National Oil Company, president and CEO of PSALM Corporation, Deputy Director General of the National Economic Development Authority, Coordinator of the Philippine Council for Sustainable Development, Supervising Official of the Legislative-Executive Development Advisory Council Secretariat, and professor of law at the University of the Philippines.

Before he was appointed as secretary of energy under President Marcos, Jr.'s administration, he was an independent director of Aboitiz Power and Exenor, an oil and gas exploration company.

Mr. Lotilla holds undergraduate degrees in Psychology and History, a Bachelor of Laws degree from the University of the Philippines, and a Master of Laws degree from the University of Michigan Law School. ■
